Revised 7/85

Nova University is located in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. It is a nonprofit institution that is not tax-supported. Nova is a university for all ages; it offers courses of study leading to bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees as well as preschool through high school programs at its University School. Unusual among educational institutions, Nova University offers programs not only on its main campus in Fort Lauderdale, but throughout the State of Florida and in 20 states nationwide. In addition to its educational programs, the University provides community services and conducts research in a variety of fields.

MASTER'S PROGRAM FOR CHILD AND YOUTH CARE
ADMINISTRATORS

for Administrators of Residential, Treatment, and Community-Based Programs for Children and Adolescents.

Nova University's Master's Program for Child and Youth Care Administrators is designed to meet the needs of busy professionals.

The program provides you with management training; a field-based, guided study format; a chance to use your program as a learning laboratory.

The Program

In Nova University's Master's Program for Child and Youth Care Administrators you can get the management training you want without leaving your job. You work within each study area using study guides specially designed by Nova faculty and nationally-recognized experts in each field. The guides integrate the texts and articles sent to you at the beginning of each set of courses.

Nova faculty remain in constant contact with you through regular telephone conferences and detailed analyses of your assignments. Assignments and projects are directly related to your ongoing managerial responsibilities.

At a one-week intensive institute, held in July each year in Fort Lauderdale, you will work with fellow students, Nova faculty, and leading national figures in therapeutic programming and management of programs for children and adolescents.

Your studies will cover: administration of children's programs; policy and politics of child care; budgeting, legal compliance, and evaluation; therapeutic programs for children and adolescents.

You will have an opportunity to apply what you have learned in a "Practicum," in which you identify a problem in your setting and develop and implement a solution to the problem.

You will share your progress through the program with other administrators entering at the same time as you. You will meet other members in your cohort at the institute and opportunities for joint problem solving will be provided. The 36 semester hour program is designed to be completed in two years.

Nova University is a leader in the adaptation of computer technology to the needs of both child care administrators and graduate students who live and work at a distance from the main campus. Those of you with access to microcomputers can send your assignments and receive detailed faculty responses by electronic mail through Nova's computer-based network. This method of communication is used as an adjunct to the regularly scheduled telephone conferences. Although some students avail themselves of this opportunity, ownership or use of microcomputer equipment is not a requirement for program matriculation.

Admission

Admission is open to administrators of residential, treatment, and community-based programs for children and adolescents who:

1. Have a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution.
2. Have two years of full-time experience as a youth or child care worker in a residential setting, or a community setting.
3. Presently have administrative or supervisory responsibility in a youth or child care program.
4. Provide evidence of ability for successful independent study at the graduate level.

Costs

The current tuition rate for the 36 credit hour program is $110 per credit. Each of the four modules of study requires a $125 materials fee. The total cost of the program is $4460, which includes tuition and all texts, study guides, and supporting curriculum materials.
